ABOUT LEXILE LEVELS

MagiCore Learning, LLC is a certified Lexile® Partner. These texts are officially measured and approved by Lexile and MetaMetrics® to ensure appropriate rigor and differentiation for students.

The Lexile Framework® for Reading measures are scientific, quantitative text levels. When the Lexile of a text is measured, specific, measurable attributes of the text are considered, including, but not limited to, word frequency, sentence length, and text cohesion. These are difficult attributes for humans to evaluate, so a computer measures them.

Common Core State Standards uses Lexile level bands as one measure of text complexity. Text complexity ranges ensure students are college and career ready by the end of 12th grade. Lexile measures help educators scaffold and differentiate instruction as well as monitor reading growth.

Grade Band	Lexile® Bands Aligned to Common Core Expectations
K-1	N/A
2-3	420L-820L
4-5	740L-1010L
6-8	925L-1185L

Keep in mind when using any leveled text that many students will need scaffolding and support to reach text at the high end of their grade band. According to Appendix A of the Common Core Standards, "It is important to recognize that scaffolding often is entirely appropriate. The expectation that scaffolding will occur with particularly challenging texts is built into the Standards' grade-by-grade text complexity expectations, for example. The general movement, however, should be toward decreasing scaffolding and increasing independence both within and across the text complexity bands defined in the Standards."

TUES. During Reading
Students read pages 2-3 quietly. As students read, rotate through students to have them read aloud.
1. Who are the main characters? (Kia and Mario)
2. What do we know about them? (Kia and Mario are friends. Mario is upset and Kia is concerned.)
3. What might Mario be upset about? (Mario says "somewhere" is gone and a newer coming back.)

Students read page 4 quietly. As students read, select students to read aloud to you. After everyone has read, let them retell the story to you. (Have students volunteer to tell events. In the beginning, Kia and Mario were outside crying. Kia was concerned, so she went to Mario to see if he had any hope. Mario said "somewhere" is gone and a newer coming back.)

NOTES: _____

WED. During Reading
Students read pages 5-6. As students read in their heads, rotate through students to have them read aloud.
1. Where do the children look first? Why? (They check the park first because Mr. Snuggles was there.)
2. How does Mario feel when Mr. Snuggles isn't at the park? How do you know? (Mario feels sad and worried.)
3. Where do the children look next? Why? (Kia and Mario decide to check the community pool.)

Students read page 7-8 quietly. As students read, select students to read aloud to you. After everyone has read, let them retell the story to you. (Have students volunteer to tell events. In the beginning, Kia and Mario were outside crying. Kia was concerned, so she went to Mario to see if he had any hope. Mario said "somewhere" is gone and a newer coming back.)

The Case of the Missing Pup

Kia gazed out the window. It was a warm, beautiful summer day in the middle of June, and she wanted to go for a walk. As she looked around, Kia noticed her neighbor Mario sitting on the stairs in front of his home. Mario appeared to be quite unhappy. He was holding his head down with a sad, gloomy expression on his face.

Kia was very concerned about Mario. She had never seen him so upset before. He was usually a lively, energetic boy who seemed to wear a smile all the time. "Poor Mario," Kia said to herself as she scratched her head. "I wonder why he's feeling so blue. I sure hope that I can cheer him up and brighten his day. Perhaps we can go have some fun in the sun."

Kia went outside to talk to Mario. As she approached his house, she could hear that he was sobbing.

"What's wrong, Mario?" Kia asked curiously. "I can see you that you're not feeling your best today. Is there something I can do to help you feel better?"

"He's gone and he's never coming back," Mario replied.

"I can see you that you're not feeling your best today. Is there something I can do to help you feel better?"

A New Class Pet

Mr. Seng told us that we had a new classmate. We all looked around. Mr. Seng laughed. He told us that we had to take care of our new classmate. We figured out we were getting a pet. We would be the only class with a pet. Everyone yelled. Mr. Seng asked us to be quiet. He did not want us to scare our pet.

Mr. Seng took off the towel. I could see tree bark and green leaves. He said Charlie was a chameleon. He got him from his sister. She had to find a new home for Charlie since she was moving. We talked about how Charlie can hide in the background. Mr. Seng told us to line up so we could look for him. I went to the back of the line. I was happy to get a pet, but why a lizard? A bunny would be better.

Now that it had a name, Atlantis was kept alive. Then someone else wrote about it. Donnelly said Atlantis was real. Its people built mighty ships. He said that other cultures started in Atlantis. Because of this book, people became fascinated with Atlantis. Myths got bigger. In 1961, a movie was made. Atlantis: The Lost Continent kept the myth alive.

Scientists say it isn't real. They can't find it. They studied the ocean floor. There isn't an island under the Atlantic Ocean. Some think Atlantis was somewhere else. There is little evidence that Atlantis really existed. But people keep looking. They love the idea of Atlantis.

1. Why do you think Josh knew to pull his hand away from the stove? Has that ever happened to you? (Answers will vary, students should remember a time they just did it automatically, like their body reacted for them.)
2. What does "throbbing" mean? (It is a kind of pain because it said "sharp pain turned into throbbing" and it's not sharp, so maybe it's dull.)

Students read page 3 quietly. As students read, select students to read aloud to you. After everyone has read, ask:

1. What is the nervous system made up of? (The brain, spinal cord, and nerves.)
2. Where are the nerves? (They are everywhere in the body. They come out of the spinal cord and go everywhere.)

NOTES:

The Nervous System

Ouch! Josh touched the hot stove. His finger turned red. Before he could even think about what was happening, a sharp pain turned on. Josh quickly pulled his hand away.

FLUENCY PASSAGES

His reaction to burning his finger was caused by his nervous system. This system controls the body. It tells a person when to speak. It even tells them when to breathe. The nervous system is made up of the brain, spinal cord, and nerves. The spinal cord is a group of nerves that runs down the back. Nerves are gray bundles. They look a bit like string. The bundles come out of the spinal cord and branch out to other parts of the body. They are everywhere, from the top of the head to the fingers and toes.

Marisol Bakes Banana Bread

Marisol Bakes Banana Bread

SAMPLE READER

It was a rainy Saturday afternoon. Marisol was bored.

“Why don’t you bake banana bread?” her mother said. “You can follow Nana Sofia’s recipe.”

“That’s a good idea,” Marisol said. She got her grandmother’s recipe book. It had been a year since Nana Sofia died. Marisol missed baking with her.

“She always made delicious banana bread,” Marisol remembered.

First, Marisol gathered all the ingredients in the recipe.

“I need bananas, flour, sugar, and eggs,” Marisol said. She opened the fridge and looked inside.

“Oh no,” Marisol said. “I need three eggs, but we only have one!”

Marisol didn’t know what to do. Without enough eggs, the banana bread would taste too dry.

All of a sudden, thunder boomed. The rainstorm was getting bad. Marisol looked out the window. This gave her an idea. She could see her neighbor's chicken coop!

"Mrs. Kumar keeps chickens. She must have eggs," Marisol said. "Maybe she will let me borrow some!"

Quick as lightning, Marisol made a plan to go out in the rain. First, she found her raincoat and boots. Next, she grabbed an umbrella.

Outside, the wind almost knocked Marisol over. She had to hold on to the umbrella with both hands.

At last, she reached Mrs. Kumar's house and knocked on the door.

"Marisol, what are you doing out in the rain?" Mrs. Kumar asked.

"I'm baking banana bread, but I need more eggs," Marisol said. "May I borrow some from your chickens?"

"Of course!" Mrs. Kumar said. "I gathered lots of eggs before the rain started."

When Marisol got home, she was wet from head to toe.

“Where have you been?” Marisol’s mother asked. Marisol pulled four eggs out of her raincoat and grinned.

An hour later, Marisol was dry. But the banana bread was not. It tasted delicious. Just like Nana Sofia's!

Tarantulas

Timer

They are large. They are hairy. And people are terrified of them. I am not talking about dogs or cats. I am talking about tarantulas!

There are over 1000 species of tarantulas. Many people think tarantulas are large spiders. They can actually be different sizes. Some can be as large as a dinner plate. Others can be smaller than a pea. The goliath birdeater is the largest known species of tarantula. It lives in South America. It is one of the largest spiders on Earth. The spruce-fir moss spider is the world's smallest tarantula. It is the size of a small bead. It lives in the Southern Appalachian Mountains.

Tarantulas also vary in color. Most species are brown. Some are very colorful. For instance, the greenbottle blue tarantula has shiny metallic blue legs, a green back, and a bright orange underside.

Tarantulas live in many parts of the world. Some species live in the United States.
